FIGHT WITH THIEVES

THREE RESIDENTS OF OHIO CITY SERIOUSLY WOUNDED,

And Two of the Robbers Reported to Have Been Killed-The Gang Secreted in the Woods.

LIMA, O., Aug. 28.-A fight took place at Ohio City, a little town at the junction of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw and the Chicago & Erie roads, thirty-five miles from this city, late last night. Thomas Risser, the night watchman, discovered thieves breaking into Charles Coch's store room. He called upon them to throw up their hands and they opened fire upon him. A well-armed mob was on the soot almost before the echo of the shots had died away. Watchman Risser tackled the robbers single-handed, and was shot twice, once in the body, while a outlet left a hole in the top of his hat and a furrow across the top of his head. The thieves then made an effort to get out of the town, but were followed by citizens. Confederates of the thieves were stationed about a quarter of a mile from the town with horses to be used in case of an emergency, but before they could reach the animals the citizens were pressing them so closely that they had to stop and defend themselves, which they did by opening fire. There was a lively exchange of shots on both sides, during which two of the thieves fell. The night was very dark, and neither side could do very effective work with their weapons. Joseph Lehman, a leading business man, was fatally wounded, and actorney Frank Lewis was badly shot. The citizens were finally forced to retire, when the thieves embraced the opportunity to escape without running another risk of being captured, and with their two dead beat a hasty retreat, going south from Ohio City. The territory in that section of the State is very densely timbered and the inhabitants are few and far between, and although a posse is scouring the country it is not probable the gang will be overtaken. The country is so dangerous that few will risk their lives in penerating the woods to any great extent.

Indianapolis About Due to Win There -Labor Day Games.

To-day the baseball enthusiasts of this city begin to regard life with favor once more, after two days of absolute stagnation. The Indianapolis ball team will try this afternoon to break their record at Minneapolis by winning a game. Sharsig's men have not yet succeeded in defeating the Millers on their own grounds. Cross will pitch, and he will have to do better work than at Detroit and Grand Rapids, or the management will let him down pretty hard, Dalrymple will return to center and Gray to third, if Murphy is all right. Westlake may join the team at Sloux City. He is in condition to catch, and is anxious to get to

There has been some correspondence between Manager Watkins and the Indianapolis club officials looking to the transfer of the Labor day games from Sloux City here. The attendance out there has been very poor, and a double-header here on Labor day would pack the grounds. Such an arrangement, the officials claim, would net them from $500 to $700 more than playing the games at Sloux City, and for that reason they are inclined to close the deal and complete the arrangements, which have already been started. The scheme was first broached some weeks ago, and has just been revived.

President Johnson wired Jack Kerins here vesterday morning, asking him to go to Minneapolis and umpire the Indianapolis games there. Kerins left at noon for that city, and will probably remain in harness the balance of the season.

Minneapolis, 10; Milwaukee, 8. MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28.-Minneapolis won a game from Milwaukee to-day in a contest which was not over until the last man was out in the ninth inning, and won it by heavy hitting in the face of some unfortunate errors by the home team. Score

Reduced Freight Tariff.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.-Since last Saturday morning the Atchison and Erie have had in effect a reduced freight tariff. It quotes a rate of 25 cents per 100 on packing-house products, from the Mississippi to New York, against the agreed rate of 35 cents. Only to-day did competing lines learn of the existence of the tariff, although it was legally filed with the Interstate-commerce Commission. Some of them, at least, and, perhaps, all of them, will ignore the three days' notice of reduction in rates and meet the tariff to-morrow morning.

ETHEL A. WAS FAST

SPEED TO BEAT WHRILIGIG'S 3-YEAR-OLD RECORD IF PUSHED.

Second Day of Fort Wayne Trotting-Mary Best Took Four-Year-Old $15,-000 Purse at Hartford, Conn.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal: FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 28 .- There was a much better attendance at the races to-day, but the time was no better, except in the three-year-old pace, in which Ethel A., the favorite, demonstrated her ability to beat Whirligig's three-year-old world record of 2:10, had she been called on to do so. The 2:21 trot was expected to be the trotting event of the day, but was unfinished after Cocoon and Palatine had each won a heat. The unfinished 2:25 pace was called promptly at 1 o'clock with only two starters, Syrena and Gazette, heat winners of yesterday. Syrena had two heats and Gazette one. Nevertheless Gazette was favorite. The first heat was a horse race ail the way. Syrena led by a length until the three-quarters was passed, where she broke and Gazette passed her and won by two lengths easily while Frank Starr was whipping Syrena. Time, 2:131/4. Gazette and Syrena got away on the first score in the second heat. Gazette was off his stride and Syrena took the pole going to the eighth. Past the quarter Gazette came up on even terms with Syrena, but could not pass her. The mare kept the lead to the wire, winning by three lengths.

There were only four starters in the 2:28 trot, and Liva was a big favorite. She had the pole, but before the eighth was reached Electric King had taken it from her. Past the quarter Eva Clay took the lead, but broke going to the half and the King was again ahead. He won by twenty-five lengths. Ofellus second, Eva Clay third, Liva fourth. On the second in going to the quarter Electric King broke and Eva Clay took the lead. She kept ahead until the distance flag was reached, when Ofellus passed her and won by two lengths. Electric King third, Liva fourth, just escaping the flag. The third heat Electric King and Liva broke going to the eighth; Ofellus and Eva Clay neck and neck to distance, where Ofellus began to jump and Eva Clay went ahead and won the heat. Electric King was distanced. The fourth heat was a repetition of the third. The race was between Eva Clay and Ofellus. At the distance Ofellus was two lengths to the good, the driver whipping. The horse broke, however, and Eva Clay won by five lengths. Ofellus took the lead in the fifth heat and kept it to the wire. In the stretch Liva passed Eva Clay and finished second. Ofelius led the entire mile in the sixth heat and beat Eva Clay without an effort, although he broke and ran from the distance

Ethel A. was favorite in the three-yearld party. She had the speed of the party, but got away four lengths behind in the first heat and traveled around all the horses except Sidmont and Quiz. In the stretch there was a great race between the trio, Ethel A. on the outside. She made the mile at least two seconds faster than the winner. Sidmont was first, Quiz second and Etnel A. tiffrd. Time, 2:13. Before the start Sanders, driver of Sidmont, Bush, with Sal-Bronson, and Ray, with Brenna, were fined $10 each for scoring ahead of the pole norse. The second heat was won by Ethel A., it being the fastest heat of the meeting up to date-2:1114. She could have traveled faster, but it was unnecessary. Sidmont was second and Quiz third. The fast time in the second heat demonstrated to the other drivers that the little Iowa mare was too fast for them, and they continued the fight for a piece of the money. Rockby

Mary Best Wins $15,000 Futurity.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 28 .- All three races were won in straight heats to-day, the winners of the first money having almost a walkover in each case. Mary Best, 2:1214, by Guy Wilkes, 2:1514, won the Connecticut $15,000 purse, and at no time was the chestnut mare pushed to show her best speed. In the third heat Goldsmith tried to distance the field, but was unsuccessful. But he made the mile in 2:131/4, and something like enthusiasm manifested itself in the crowd. Ora Wilkes, also handled by Goldsmith, was another winner in three straight heats, in the 2:15 class trot, and had a cinch from the start. There were only two starters in the 2:10 pace, Paul and Major Wonder. The latter was not up to his usual form, and Paul took first money in straight heats. All in Straight Heats. TOLEDO, O., Aug. 28.-To-day's racing was of a very mediocre order. Every event on the card was a "sure thing" for the winner, and three heats were all that was required in any case. Van Robin made an effort to take a heat in the 2:30 trot, but could do no better than a close second. Many of the races are started under protest, as it is alleged that irregularities were practiced by the association in admitting certain horses after the entries were supposed to have closed. Unfinished three-minute pace-Trixie Hal. by Tom Hal, won fourth and fifth heats and race. Time-2:20, 2:25. Salarion second, Sanford L. third. Quaker K., Lizzie Mac, Daisy C. and Tammany Wilkes also started.

G. A. R. Rate War.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 28.—Thomas Post, G. A. R., announced, to-night, that they had secured a promise of a rate of $5 to the National Encampment at Pittsburg. The rate fixed by the terminal roads is $7. All the other posts here have contracted at the $7 rate with a condition that the rate shall be as low as by other routes. The passenger agents of the direct routes, realizing that the rate has been cut by some one, say that a rate war on G. A. R. business to Pittsburg seems now inevitable.

ON THE STAND AGAIN

MR. WICKES TELLS ABOUT THE PULLMAN CAR CONTRACTS.

$100,000 Rent Due from Strikers, but No Evictions Ordered - General Miles Also Testifies.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.-In the investigation of the Pullman strike by the national commission, to-day, Chauncey Kelsey, of the Chicago & Alton railroad, took the witness chair and testified as to the losses sustained by that road during the strike. He declared that the total loss was $286,360. Then William McMadden, of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern road, testified that the loss on cars alone to that road was $5,140. The Chicago & Eastern Illinois reported $21,600 and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy reported $150,000 in destruction of property, with other losses that had not been tabulated. Charles E. Webb, chief clerk of the bank at Pullman, testified that Jennie Curtis, who had claimed she was compelled to pay back rent, had paid the rent voluntarily.

Vice President Wickes then took the stand. Questioned by Chairman Wright, he said the cost to the company of building the cars under contract at the time of the strike was about $1,400,000. The labor would cost about $240,000. The contracts were taken on a basis of reduction of 20 per cent., and thus, under the old prices, the labor would cost about $340,000. Mr. Wickes admitted that on this basis the company had reduced its receipts $52,000 and the employes' wages $60,000. This, the Vice President said, looked hardly fair, but he thought it much better than to throw the men entirely out of employment.

In answer to the chairman, Mr. Wickes said that the cut in pay had been made to fit the depression in business and the low selling price of cars, and not to stop any encroachment on the profits that were paid to the stockholders. The surplus of $25,000,-000 undivided profits consisted partly of idle cars, whose value was constantly deteriorating. The cost of the cars was counted in the surplus, so that there was, to some extent, a fiction in the figures of the surplus. Mr. Wickes said that the world's fair, in his opinion, did not do his company any particular good. The company spent $4,500,000 in building new cars for fair traffic, and the travel was not nearly so large as was expected. He thought that the fair work had something to do with the cause of the strike. When the rush was over the prices went down to bedrock and the men were dissatisfied. He did not think that a voluntary division of the profits would be better than the present system. It would not be fair to the stock-holders to so divide the profits.

Mr. Wickes said the amount of back rent due the company from strikers was $100,000. No eviction lists had been made and there had been no orders for eviction. Very little effort had been made to collect the back rent. He said the company had contracts with the roads to run its cars over about three-quarters of all the mileage in the country. On the territory covered by the contracts the Pullman company had a monopoly. Mr. Wickes denied that Pullman employes were compelled to rent the company's dwellings. He said he did not believe the principle of arbitration could be applied to a man in the operation of his own business. A matter of opinion was available to arbitration, but not the mat-The witness was questioned as to the saiaries paid the company's officers, but declined to answer.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles took the stand when the commission met after luncheon, He denied the story that on his arrival here from Washington he had at once consulted with the general managers of the railways. On July 2, when this conference was said to have taken place, he was in Washington, and he arrived here on July 4. Asked if it was true that he had de-clared he had broken the backbone of the strike, the General said this was not quite exact. What he said was that he had broken the backbone of the opposition to the federal troops. The commissioners wanted to know if the troops forced railroad men to work at the point of the bayonet. General Miles said that while this might have happened in some instances, he had not been aware of it and had issued no orders to that effect. He said he knew nothing about the strike. General Superintendent Sullivan, of the Illinois Central, was the last important witness of the day. He declared that many of the striking railroad men had committed acts of violence and backed up his asser-tions by tangible evidence. This was the main point in his evidence. The remainder of his testimony was similar to that given

Vesper and Its Twenty-Three Buildings in Ashes. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 28.-Specials to the Sentinel from Marshfield and Grand Rapids say that the little lumber town of Vesper was destroyed by a forest fire today. The large saw and planing mills belonging to the Sherry-Cameron Lumber

Company and twenty-three buildings, all there were in the town, were burned. The only train on the Port Edwards railroad has been abandoned and telegraph and telephone communication is cut off. Grand Rapids sent a fire engine. The loss cannot now be estimated.

A dispatch from Marengo, in Ashland county, states that forest fires are still raging along the line of the Wisconsin

Central railroad. Logging Camps Burned.

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 28.-Word was received to-day from Hibbing that very extensive fires were driving into town the logging and mine operators near there. A crew of over one hundred men arrived there from one logging camp in the Wright-Davis operations, their camps having been burned, as well as over 150,000 feet of logs that had been skidded and were ready to be hauled to the river. The fires are burning fiercely in old choppings and if the wind should increase, would do great damage to timber yet uninjured or to the town. Hibbing, though a village of one year, has a fairly good water system, The smoke from fires in this vicinity and northern Michigan have been so dense here that fog signals have been blowing almost continuously for a week and navigation at this end of Lake Superior is very much hindered. Air Full of Cinders. PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Aug. 28 .-Forest fires in Olympia mountains and on Vancouver island have been burning for several days. The straits and lower sound are enveloped in a thick cloud of smoke, which wholly obscures the sun and endangers navigation. The atmosphere is full of ash cinders. CITY NEWS NOTES.
